

Tracey L. Force
Talent Acquisition Manager
KCT Consulting, LLC

Tracey L. Force is the Talent Acquisition Manager for KCT Consulting, LLC, an executive coaching firm specializing in organizational transformation through leadership excellence and people engagement.

An experienced and energetic Human Resources business partner, Ms. Force specializes in helping clients acquire talent through personal networking, social media sourcing, and assessing talent qualifications to meet organizational staffing specifications. Her experience includes various HR leadership roles in banking, mortgage originations and other financial services organizations. To insure organization and candidate compatibility, Ms. Force's talent review process includes a rigorous assessment of an individual's skills, experience, values, and work style.

Her educational credentials include certificates in Human Resources from Rowan University, American Management Association and Society for Human Resource Management. In addition, she has earned certificates from the American Institute of Banking and the Art Institute of Philadelphia.

Ms. Force's proficiency in all aspects of talent acquisition has resulted in an impressive career. She is sought out to provide training and coaching to organizational leaders for improving their effectiveness in obtaining, developing and retaining key talent. Her creativity, quality, organizational skills and operational excellence have been recognized by clients as best in class.

Ms. Force is actively engaged in the community where she serves as a long term member of the American Business Women's Association, Big Brother / Big Sister program and various other civic organizations.